

Monitor Arms

Motion is the ever practical pole arm that offers the ergonomic benefits of a monitor arm yet more affordable than its more prestigious Air gas sibling. Motion does share common styling with Air ensuring the aesthetics are not compromised when the arms share the same floor space. Motion is available as a single or double arm making it ideal for those who work in close proximity or for the individual user who has two screens. It can also be selected with a monitor head that is ideal for reception areas and point of sale locations.
